BOOK BAGS FOR BABIES

Every year around 300 babies are born in the Inverell region. We want to get them off to a great start by giving them a bag of specially selected books!

We need your help to make the bags for the project - bags made by the community, to help welcome babies to our community.

You can help by making bags (guidelines below) or by donating suitable fabric for others to make the bags.

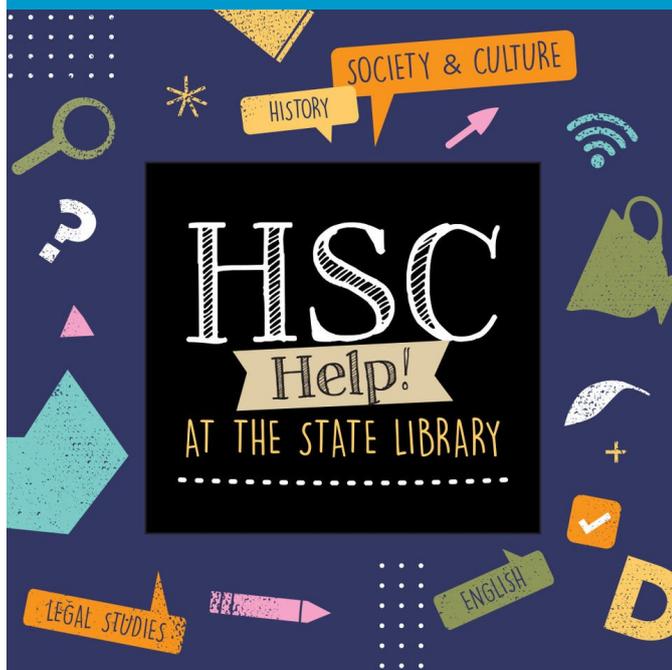

We already have a team of helpers crafting bags, but more volunteers are most welcome.

Bags should be:

- * made of colourful sturdy fabric, and preferably lined
- * approximately 35cm wide & 40cm high
- * have an internal library card pocket 10cm wide x 7cm high
- * have a strap/straps around 50cm long

Contact us at 67288130 and speak to Sonya or Leanne to find out how you can help.

Basic Library Book Borrowing Etiquette

Libraries provide a great service by letting you check out and read books for free. To make sure everyone in the community has the opportunity to read the books in a library's collection, it's important to keep the books you borrow in good condition. You can do your part by handling library books properly, protecting them when you're not reading them (wikihow).

- 1) Wash your hands before touching your book. The slightest bit of dirt or oil on your hands can discolour or damage the pages and binding. Work up a good lather with the soap.
- 2) Don't write in the book. Avoid marking the pages or binding with ink, marker, or highlighter. Avoid even making light pencil marks. You can unintentionally damage the pages when you erase.
- 3) Avoid reading your book in or near water. It could fall into the water and be completely ruined. If you need something to read near the pool or in a boat, read a magazine or newspaper that you plan to recycle.
- 4) Don't eat or drink while reading. Stains and spills are difficult to remove. They can obscure the text and make the pages difficult to read. Keep the book away from your eating and drinking space during mealtime
- 5) Bring the book back inside if you read outdoors. Rain and direct sunlight can damage books. Even if you only get up for a few minutes and intend to go back outside immediately, take your book with you. Your plans could change or you could forget about your book.
- 6) Use bookmarks. Never dog-ear a library book to mark your place. Paper clips, rubber bands, locks of hair, rubber bands, string, dental floss, pencils, etc. aren't bookmarks and shouldn't be used as such. Flat paper bookmarks really are best.
- 7) Keep your book out of reach of pets and small children. Animals can chew your book. Small children can draw on it or tear the pages. If you share your home with animals and/or children, place your book on a tall shelf, dresser, or bookcase when you're not reading it.

Following these simple tips means everyone can equally appreciate the experience of borrowing library books and enjoy them in the comfort of your home.

John Marsden

John Marsden was born in Victoria, Australia in 1950. He went to many different primary schools, and from an early age enjoyed the journeys into magical worlds that reading could provide. His teachers in Grade 4 and Grade 6 encouraged him to write, and at the age of nine he decided he wanted to become an author.

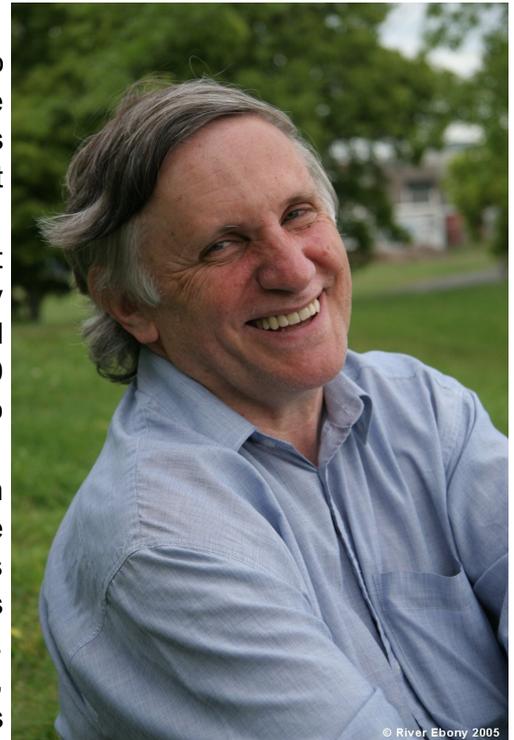

For seven years he attended The King's School Parramatta, a strict military school in Sydney, and from there went on to the University of Sydney. However, he soon decided that a career in law looked too boring, so he dropped out and drifted around for nearly 10 years, trying different jobs, and earning just enough money to support himself.

When he was 28, he began a teaching course, which he loved from the start. Embarking on a teaching career, he also became more and more interested in writing, and in 1987 succeeded in getting his first book, "So Much to Tell You", published. A string of huge hits followed, highlighted by the Tomorrow series and Ellie chronicles. John has now sold more than 2.5 million books in Australia alone, but is an international best-seller, with many major awards to his credit.

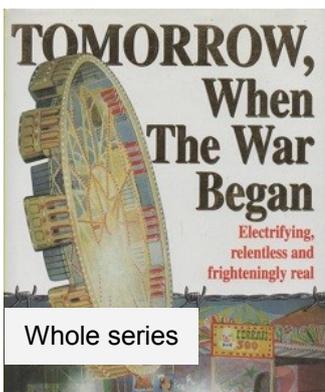

John's interest in education has never waned. In 1998 he bought the Tye Estate, 850 acres of natural bush, on the northern edge of Melbourne, and later added the property next door. For eight years he ran enormously popular writers' courses and camps at Tye, before starting his own school there, Candlebark, in 2006.

Candlebark is a Preschool - Year 8 school, which has been described by John as "somewhere between Steiner and The Simpsons". Its' friendly lively and positive atmosphere has resulted in such early success that it has a four-year waiting list.

New Young Adult Fiction

The last to die by Kelly Garrett (YA GARR)

It all started out as a game.

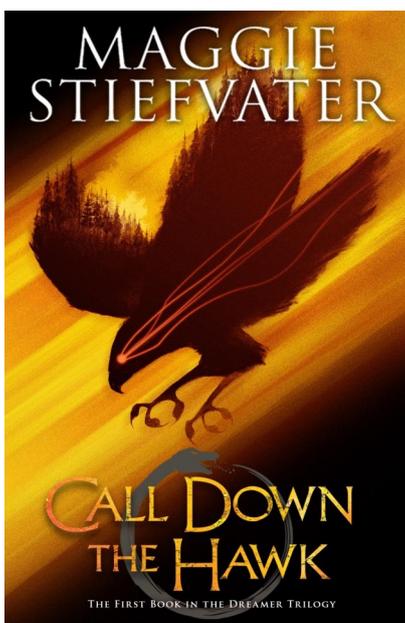

Just a way to have fun. We figured as long as we had rules, it wouldn't be a problem.

Rule #1: Only break into one another's houses

Rules #2: Only take stuff that can be replaced.

It worked for a while. Whoever's turn it was to break in got a rush, and the rest of us laughed over the trophies they brought back. But then someone went too far. Lives were ruined. Someone is dead.

And I might be next.

Call down the hawk by Maggie Stiefvater (YA STIE)

The first book in the 'Dreamers' trilogy.

Those who dream cannot stop dreaming - they can only try to control it. Those who are dreamed cannot have their own lives - they will sleep forever if their dreamers die.

And then there are those who are drawn to the dreamers. To use them. To trap them. To kill them before their dreams destroy us all.

Ronan Lynch is a dreamer. He can pull both curiosities and catastrophes out of his dreams and into his compromised reality.

Jordan Hennessy is a thief. The closer she comes to the dream object she is after, the more inextricably she becomes tied to it.

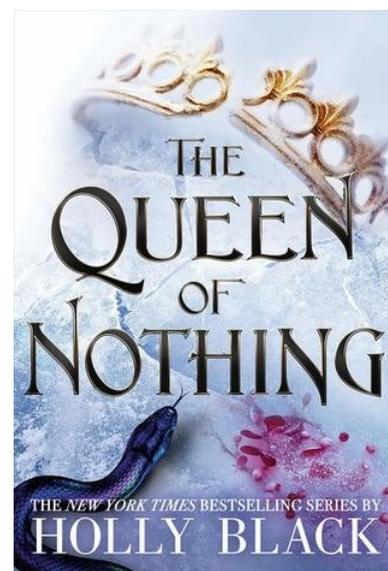

Carmne Farooq-Lane is a hunter. Her brother was a dreamer...and a killer. She has seen what dreaming can do to a person. And she has seen the damage that dreamers can do. But that is nothing compared to the destruction that is about to be unleashed.

The Queen of nothing by Holly Black (YA BLAC)

Book 3 in the 'Folk of the Air' series.

As the exiled mortal Queen of Faerie, Jude is reeling from Cardan's betrayal and is determined to reclaim everything he took from her. Opportunity arrives in the form of her deceptive twin sister, Taryn, whose life is in peril. Jude must return to the treacherous Faerie Court and confront her lingering feelings for Cardan.

But Elfhome is not as she left it. War is brewing, and she becomes ensnared in the conflict's bloody politics. When a terrible curse is unleashed, panic spreads throughout the land, forcing Jude to choose between her ambition and her humanity.

Plot (what happens?) Written in poem verse, just like the book.

Sammy Claws is Santa's pet cat;
he sleeps by Santa's feet on a fluffy mat
When Sammy Claws gets trapped in a box on Christmas Eve;
he's mistaken for a present you wouldn't believe!
Half-way around the world with the lamp-light turned dim,
Santa didn't see two villains waiting to rob him.
But Sammy Claws in his box, heard their entire plan.
And launched himself out of the box like a cannon ball with a big bam.
Just at that moment, Santa climbed out of a chimney,
"Oh gosh", he said, "How did you get here Sammy?"
Then after a minute he said, "From now on we will work as a team and every Christmas we will try not to be seen!"
